Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Angus Parish in the Eighteenth Century This volume is practically a sequel of an earlier work, now out of print, entitled The Annals of an Angus Parish, which dealt chiefly with the 17th Century, and is written mainly with the view of describing and illustrating the many quaint and curious phases of old Parochial and Ecclesiastical life in Angus as are to be gleaned from the Parish Records of the 18th Century. While more immediately concerned with Auchterhouse Parish, the volume is meant to have a much wider bearing and range, and may possibly prove interesting to those fond of antiquarian lore, old family history, and the past manners and customs of the County. It has been the intermittent labour of a lengthened period, and is the result of extensive reading and research into every available source of information within reach. My best thanks are due to friends who have supplied photographs, and to those parishioners and others who have so kindly furnished me with much curious information regarding the old smuggling times - a subject to them not without many touches of romantic and personal interest.
